The property

The Droves is an appealing, period home which offers a wealth of character and a living environment tallying 2071 sq. ft of relaxed comfort and versatility. Ceramic-tiled flooring across reception areas provides practicality and a sense of cohesion, with a spacious hallway featuring an antique stove for a warm welcome. On the ground floor, the sitting room provides a calm setting for downtime, with an adjoining study/snug. The kitchen/breakfast room is the heart of the home with plenty of space for informal dining and French doors to the outside terrace. Fitted with modern cabinetry and wooden work tops, the kitchen features an island unit with breakfast bar and a large tiled recess housing a striking green, oil fired Aga stove. Ancillary areas are provided by a larder and an adjoining utility room which provides additional storage.

On the first floor, a length of landing gives access to five bedrooms, and a family bathroom.

The principal room benefits from a double aspect outlook and an en suite shower room.

Outside

A timber five-bar gate opens onto an expanse of gravelled parking space with a covered shelter. Well stocked flower beds, along with climbing plants adorn the front elevation and create an attractive display at the front of the home. Trellising offers partition to a side garden, with a timber archway leading to the south-east facing terrace for al fresco dining and relaxation. A pathway leads across a lawn to an alternative sitting spot under the shade of a pergola and to the timber outbuildings which are suitable for a variety of uses. Our client also rents an additional area of lawned space to the rear of the property from where there is direct access for woodland walks.
